The Bible Under the Baobab · Discussion sheet for episode 10

Sarah Laughed

Genesis 18 · For ages 3 to 10 · Video: 8 min 43

The story in brief

Sarah Laughed. Abraham is ninety-nine years old. At the hottest hour of the day, three visitors stand in front of his tent, under the oaks of Mamre. Abraham runs, bows down, and has flatbreads and a meal prepared. Then one of the visitors says: “Next year, Sarah will have a son.” Behind the entrance of the tent, Sarah laughs quietly. “Is anything too hard for the Lord?” Grandma Adjoua tells this story to Kofi, who made fun of the mango seed Nia planted.

Let’s talk about it

1. How many visitors come to Abraham’s tent? What does he do for them?
2. Why does Sarah laugh?
3. Is there something that seems impossible to you?
4. Have you ever waited a long time for something you hoped for?

> Notes for the grown-up. Three. He runs to meet them, bows down and has a meal prepared. Sarah thinks she is too old to have a child.

To remember

Nothing is too hard for God.

The song: Nothing is too great for God

Nothing is too great for God, nothing is too late for him.
Sarah laughed so quietly, soon she will laugh with joy!

To do

Plant a seed in a pot, water it, and wait.

Watch the episode and hear the song: labiblesouslebaobab.com/en/episodes/sarah-laughed/
From the book of Genesis, chapter 18, verses 1 to 15. Free for home, Sunday school and children’s ministry.